

“This is a new generation of Web Sites. This is not just presenting information. It is a tool to advance our community’s work - building, helping to overcome the separateness of our lives. In the same way as a family found itself spread apart and used this to keep close, so too for the church the tool becomes a gift.”

- Rev. Louis Kilgore, Bound Brook Presbyterian Church www.bbpc.org

The biggest problem with churches today is communication. Congregations are made of people with different lives. Not everyone can always be at the church. Members of committees and congregation are constantly struggling to remain connected. We have developed the perfect solution.

GroupLoop.com was a company founded on keeping groups of people in contact with each other. Each group gets their own versatile, user-friendly web site. With sections such as announcements, calendar, discussions, photos, and voting polls, people can interact in a simple, exciting environment.

We developed a unique system that links different groups together. Your church can have its main site for church information, announcements, sermons, etc. Then, you can have sites for each of your committees – session, deacons, cemetery, church leaders, anything you want! Now members won’t have to wait until the next meeting to keep up. Not only that, people outside the committees can see what’s happening.

Use your sites for private voting, meeting minutes, online discussions, and even view other members’ contact information. Just imagine the possibilities of a new, revolutionary form of communication, both externally and internally in your church.

Don’t be scared if this sounds complex or difficult. We take all the pain out of it. Anyone can participate!

A tool that takes care of your church’s communication should cost a lot of money. But it doesn’t. With as little as $20/month and a small setup fee, your church can be up and running. You don’t need to install any software.

We totally guarantee our service, and will give you a 30-day trial period. Act quickly, and become a part of the fastest growing trend in churches. Visit us at GroupLoop.com!

If you join us, PLEASE enter your salesman’s ID number, _____. This is very important. Our sales staff work very hard, and you must enter their ID in order for them to get their deserved credit. Thank you!
